The Work of Advisory Committees

Telecommunications Advisory Committees

Three advisory committees, namely the Telecommunications Regulatory Affairs Advisory Committee, the Radio Spectrum and Technical Standards Advisory Committee, and the Telecommunications Users and Consumers Advisory Committee, were established under OFCA in June 2012. These committees provide a regular and formal channel for the industry, telecommunications service users and interested parties to advise OFCA on the formulation and implementation of various telecommunications regulatory measures and policies.

Members of the advisory committees are drawn from different sectors of the telecommunications industry, relevant government departments, non-governmental organisations, as well as the general public. This helps provide a balanced representation of views on, at times, highly technical and complex issues. The term of appointment is two years.

The membership lists of the three advisory committees as of 31 March 2019 are in Appendix B.

Television and Radio Consultative Scheme

The role of the Television and Radio Consultative Scheme (TRCS) is to provide qualitative input on television and radio programming to the CA's public consultation process. Members are drawn from all 18 districts of the territory. In 2018/19,

OFCA invited members of the TRCS to give their views on the review of the regulations governing indirect advertising and advertisements for undertakers and associated services during the public consultation held from 28 March to 28 April 2018. In addition, OFCA held focus group discussions with members of the TRCS to collect their in-depth views on the subjects.
